PITTSBURGH, April 9.—[By The Associated being formed, which will rival the comnization. Its financial backing will come from various parts of this country and Europe, and the capital stock will be $100,000,000. David Reese, one of the interested parties, would not deny that the facts as stated are substantially correct. The most important feature of the whole business is probably the fact that James Harvey, the inventor of the famous nickel steel and Harveyized steel, from which armor plate is made, is the projector of the syndicate. Carnegie used his patent, paying a royalty on the production.

Harvey was dissatisfied with the arrangement and desired to enter the firm, but this was denied him, and he determined to go in business for himself. Influential persons were approached, and the present syndicate was the result.

LONDON, April 9.—[By Cable and out into the river from the Hull docks last night so as to be able to take on board their crews at a safe distance from the rioters. Two companies of dragoons, armed, formed on both sides of the crews two hours later and escorted them to the tenders. The police tried to keep the mob back, but the strikers broke through the lines repeatedly and begun stoning the soldiers and sailors. The police swung their clubs

tering faces. The dragoons beat them back with the butts of their lances, and finally the crews were placed on the tenders. Several policemen and dragoons were injured, and about a dozen strikers were carried from the scene of the conflict. A gunboat arrived today at Hull, and another is expected tomorgunboats will awe the strikers suffi-

A convenient and useful thing, not only to strangers and tourists, but to citizens of Los Angeles, would be a READY-REFERENCE SHEET of popular local information, giving the names and location of the chief transportation lines, the leading hotels, churches, public buildings, secret societies, boarding houses, restaurants, suburban resorts, livery stables, banks, real estate and insurance agents, attorneys, physicians, etc.

Such a sheet THE TIMES is preparing to put out. It will contain, besides the above lines of information, a long list of business cards, making it particularly useful to business men.

THE READY-REFERENCE SHEET, occupying a page of THE TIMES, will run through a full edition of 15,000 copies of the paper, and be printed, besides, on a large number of card sheets for special circulation and permanent posting.

An agent will call upon business men, explain details and give prices. Full information can also be had at this office.

THE San Bernardino Times-Index mildly deprecates the recent lynching in that place, and says: "For the good name of the city of San Bernardino it is to be regretted that the law was not permitted to take its course. Where mob law exists there home-seekers hesitate to take up their abode." That is the practical side of the affair. There are a good many reasons even more weighty to be urged against mob-law, and one of them is the tendency to discredit the law and destroy all government.

Prof. Davidson is alleged to go on with an argument against Pasadena as a site for the great instrument and in favor of old Baldy. If he really made any such absurd comparison it was done in utter ignorance of the fact that Prof. Pickering, of the Harvard Observatory, after a year's trial, declared Mt. Wilson (immediately back of Pasadena) the finest location in North America for telescopic seeing. The Professor must have also been ignorant of the fact that the summit of this same mountain will soon be made accessible by rail as well as by horse trail, whereas, on the other hand, Mt. San Antonio is the most inaccessible peak in the whole Sierra Madre range. It is a bald, bleak, rugged, snow-capped, rocky height, without a single feature except its altitude (and that is too great) to commend it as a site for an observatory. It is not only inaccessible, but it is impossible as an astronomical station.

A SPECIAL dispatch from Washington says that in the Senate press gallery the other day was seen a callow youth who looked scarce 25 years old, and he was weakened in face and attenuated in body like a Georgia "cracker" who has fed upon red clay and blackberries all his life. When the list of nominations was sent up it was found that this young Illinois man, whose name is Eckels, had been appointed Comptroller of Currency. Eckels was as much astonished as anybody. "Why, I don't know anything about banking," he said in bewilderment. "I have been expecting to get some position, but nothing like this."

It is upon this nomination that the Senate is likely to look horns with the President. The bankers will make a general protest against the appointment of a self-acknowledged incompetent to this important position, and with this backing the disgruntled Senators are likely to make a stubborn resistance. It has even been intimated that the nomination of Eckels was due to a clerical mistake, but that is hardly a reasonable hypothesis. Sooner or later there is bound to be a big breaking up between the bull-necked President and the Congressmen whom he is trying to despoil of their political prestige.

A PHILADELPHIA man has patented a machine-made egg. This will be good news to Populist Jim Weaver in case they are so constructed as not to acquire that tired feeling so prevalent among eggs of the old-fashioned kind, as grown down in Georgia.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

PARK THEATRE.—A new play, Bit of Blarney, will be presented at the Park Theatre tonight, the first time on any stage. As may be understood by its name, it is an Irish comedy, and the management of the new playhouse feel confident that it will prove a winning attraction. Its author, Fitzgerald Murphy, appears in the leading role, supported by the full strength of the company. A big house is anticipated.

FOR HER WHO MUST STAY INDOORS. (From Our Regular New York Fashion Correspondent.)

The invalid is too apt to think that anything will do for her to wear, or that a change of wrappers is all that she can indulge in. It is true that the usual invalid can hardly hope to show as trimly dressed a figure as can her friend who is a well woman. But when she feels so tired of loose things that even an empire gown does not comfort her, though it is the fashion, there are one or two models she can follow in a fitting dress. Let her select a striped goods, some crisp silk, and have the bodice cut to fit the natural line of the figure about the hips. Let its edge be finished with a band of embroidery, made fairly stiff and almost belt-like. Now, she must counteract the effect of too wide a waist by emphasizing width just above and at the bust line. Two bands of embroidery passed about the figure will do this, one over the breast line and the other between that and the belt. The silk may part over the chest to show an inserted vest. Let the sleeve be a loosely falling, tight to the elbow and tight below. It will hardly be so wide as a fitted puff, because she needs to lie down without hurting the gown. The puff may be of some net or open work, over a tight silk sleeve that is a bright color, to match one of the stripes in the dress. The lower sleeve should be covered closely with the net, and, of course, in this case the vest should match the sleeves. A big, soft, warm wrap must be at hand. One that will fill the chair, and have to spare for the feet to rest upon. Thus arrayed and supplied, our invalid may be comfortable, fitted and safe, too.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Harbor Hints. LOS ANGELES, April 7, 1893.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The people of Southern California, and in fact the whole coast, have reason to thank God that they have one representative newspaper that does not belong to body and soul to the Southern Pacific Company and that is enough interested in our advancement and alive to our necessities to editorially take up the fight for a harbor and expose the triangular Huntington-Southern Pacific Company-Frye combination and its unwarrantable fight against it—a fight that is not at all for Santa Monica, but against any harbor.

The absurdity of still advocating a harbor at Santa Monica in opposition to live reports by that intelligent, honorable and un-purchable body of men, the United States Engineers, is simply ludicrous, and it would be in much better form for the obstructionists who have made their millions out of the Government at the expense of the people to turn tail and commence crying economy, and proclaim "no necessity for a harbor at all."

The people are with THE TIMES on the proposition. The Chamber of Commerce has already taken "stay on the fence" in any particular. "Not that we love Santa Monica or the Southern Pacific Company less, but that we love a harbor more," should be the cry, and with a pull together, and able assistance from THE TIMES we will expose to the country and its representatives in Washington the duplicity of such men as Senator Frye.

AT THE CHURCHES.

Address by ex-Postmaster-General Wanamaker.

The First Presbyterian Church. Crowded to the Doors.

Rev. Dr. Cantine at the First Methodist Church.

His Old Congregation Turns Out En Masse to Welcome Him—Song Service at St. John's Episcopal Church—Religious News.

The fact that ex-Postmaster-General John Wanamaker, who is now visiting in the city, had consented to deliver a short address, under the direction of the Y.M.C.A., had the effect of attracting an unusually large crowd of people to the First Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon. Every available seat in the edifice was filled, although the seating capacity of the house had been enlarged by the throwing open of the lecture room, which also was well supplied with chairs.

The services began shortly after 3 o'clock, with music furnished by the association orchestra, this being followed by the singing of several hymns, in which the congregation joined. Rev. Dr. Cantine then read a chapter from the scriptures, and Secretary Ball introduced the speaker. The ex-Postmaster General's talk was brief, and entirely informal. He dwelt for a moment upon the circumstances of his visit to Southern California, and compared his feelings with those of an old woman who had for years been shut up in the city, and had never seen the seashore. Finally a kind-hearted gentleman, resolving to give her a treat, had her sent to the sunny ocean side. She went, without uttering a word, enjoying the sunlight and brightness, and when the gentleman approached and asked her what she thought of it all, she replied: "Oh, sir, it is so good to see something there is plenty of."

The speaker, then, went back to the early history of the Y.M.C.A., and outlined its rapid growth from that time to the present. "Now," he said, "it has become to be understood that the largest assets any city may have are its young men." While he brought greetings from the Board of the Y.M.C.A., he said that California was no longer in the far West.

The building of St. Petersburg upon a swamp was cited as an example of what perseverance and thought might accomplish, the address closing with the benediction. The speaker was in excellent condition about our lives. Build in your homes, your children's hearts, your city lives reverence for the old book, the Sabbath and for everything that will help a fellow to a better life. Religion is not for Sunday only, but for every day.

Mr. Wanamaker afterward addressed the Boyle Heights Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. The church was crowded, there being between three and four hundred people present. Mr. Wanamaker spoke about twenty minutes.

REV. DR. CANTINE AT HIS OLD CHURCH.—Rev. Dr. Cantine, for five years pastor of the First Methodist Church, is in the city on a short visit. He is here for rest and declined to occupy his old pulpit yesterday, but promised the pastor, Rev. Dr. Campbell, that he would return to the church on the following morning, which fact was announced at the morning service.

The great church was packed last night from pulpit to the uppermost seat in the gallery and the farthest pew in the Sunday-school room, while the altar was crowded with some of the very minor wealth. Hugh Smith's magnificent choir and orchestra never rendered a finer preliminary song service, the great congregation joining in the hymns, save in the offertory anthem. Dr. Campbell's text was the passage of scripture, "That is the light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world." At the close of the sermon Dr. Cantine in a fifteen-minute exhortation gave added emphasis to the earnest words of the pastor. In the course of his address he referred to his five years of labor among the people here; to the blessed memories of joy, and of sorrow, of pain and of gladness that came trooping before him as he stood once again in the place, hallowed by so many tender associations. His aim was to leave the people with a new sense of the presence of God in their lives, and to leave them with a new sense of the presence of God in their lives, and to leave them with a new sense of the presence of God in their lives.

As pastor of the First Methodist Church in San José, Dr. Cantine is doing a noble work, and has won a warm place in the hearts of the people there. He will be in the city until Wednesday, when, accompanied by his wife, he leaves, to visit his daughter at Coronado.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.—The annual children's flower service was held yesterday afternoon at St. John's Episcopal Church. The service was a very pretty service. The children of the Sunday-school to the number of about one hundred and fifty brought bunches of beautiful flowers, which were received by the pastor and placed about the altar. The flowers were of various kinds, and were very pretty. The children were very well dressed, and were very happy.

Paul's Hospital and to some patients at Dr. Cowles's sanitarium. During the service the prizes won by the children of the Sunday-school were distributed, some of them being elegant books and presents, and a number of the children were presented with a colored Easter egg, with a very beautiful pen and ink sketch of the church on each egg. The pastor addressed the children afterward, telling an allegorical story. The offerings of the children from their Lenten savings, which were devoted to missionary purposes, amounted to $100.

Last Monday the annual parish meeting of this church was held and showed a great growth since the present rector took charge. The parish guilds are all in good working order, with large membership. The committee of the church have increased from forty-five to 205 in a little over a year. The vestrymen elected for the coming year are: Rev. B. W. R. Taylor, Dr. J. E. Cowles, O. Pooley, E. F. Folsom, W. Parris, L. Thorne and S. V. Landt.

CENTRAL METHODIST.—Rev. F. M. Larkin of Central Methodist Episcopal Church, who arrived yesterday morning from St. Louis, Mo., spoke this morning at the church. He spoke of the house in order, for thou shalt die and not live.

This was at a time in the life of Hezekiah when he might reasonably expect to live for many years, yet the summons came to him to answer for his prayer for life, note that he was required to use a remedy. God wants us to make use of every means placed in our power. Death is a momentous change to every man of thought, but the mere thought of dying is not all that fills us with apprehension, but that we shall live again, and what shall we do after death? Science cannot fathom the depths of immortal life, so God has given us revelation. We are constantly reminded of the uncertainty of life and about our house in order in temporal affairs, using every means possible to provide for our loved ones in case we should be called to die. How much more important for us to attend to our spiritual needs and for eternity.

Infidelity in answer to the question of eternity, but Christ lovingly says, "Come unto me and I will give you rest," and if we come to Him and accept Him as our Savior we can look into the grave and say, "O Death! where is thy sting? O Grave! where is thy victory?"

PACIFIC GOSPEL UNION.—The hall of the Pacific Gospel Union was crowded last night. Miss Addie Sherman, the railroad evangelist, delivered a forcible and searching address on the subject of "Love." Miss Sherman said that the love of God can reach anything and that no man ever gets so low but that if he will accept Christ as a Savior, the Lord will love reach down and lift him up. Miss Sherman illustrated her address by anecdotes of occurrences in her railroad work. As Hilto gave the invitation and eight persons came forward in response thereto. The music, which was a feature of the services here, consisted of the regular song service, led by an orchestra, and a male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Balkeman, Warren, Fisher and Harte. Miss Sherman and Miss Smith speak at the mission tonight.

RELIGIOUS NEWS.—Fully 1000 people listened to the address of John Wanamaker yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church, while the crowd adjourned from Y.M.C.A. auditorium, which proved too small to accommodate them. There will be a general social of the members and friends of Simpson Church next Friday evening, at the residence of Judge R. M. Widney, on South Olive street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cantine attended morning service at the University Methodist Church yesterday morning, to listen to their old friend, Rev. Dr. Dandy, who occupied the pulpit there. Two infants and one adult were baptized at Simpson Church yesterday morning, in view to the service. Miss Jennie Smith, the traveling temperance evangelist, occupied the pulpit, giving her Bible reading, and incidentally relating her own religious experience and miraculous healing from helpless invalidism some fifteen years ago.

The quarterly meeting of the Pacific Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society meets at University Church next Wednesday, the executive committee meeting from 9 to 10 a.m.

A FAR-WEST VETERAN.—Col. Charles D. Poston of Arizona—A Notable Career.

Special Correspondent of THE TIMES.—Phoenix, Ariz., April 7.—One of the notable characters of Arizona, and a man who has had a most prominent, useful and interesting life, is Col. Charles D. Poston, agent of the United States Department of Agriculture for Arizona. He has spent his life in the far West.

Upon the acquisition of California he left Nashville, Tenn., went to California, joined the Argonauts and was honored with a first-class appointment in the custom-house at San Francisco. Upon the completion of the treaty with Mexico for the purchase of Arizona he embarked with a company of about thirty men for exploration of the new territory, arriving at Guaymas in January, 1854. After examining the Territory and taking specimens of the very minor wealth, he returned to California and thence by Panama to New York, Kentucky and Washington, where he spent the year 1855, enlisting interest for the new possessions.

In 1856 he returned to Arizona with a company and found the Indians on the silver mines, and continued this arduous and dangerous occupation until relieved by Gen. Heintzelman (the president of the company) in 1858, when he transferred his intelligence to the office of the company in New York. Upon the commencement of the Civil War he was in charge of the company's business in Arizona, with a plant which had cost nearly a million dollars. When the country was abandoned by the United States troops, and after having been driven to the Indian Territory, he left the country in ruins, with only one companion, Prof. Pumpelly; vide "Across America and Asia." Repairing to Washington he served awhile as volunteer aid to this old friend, Gen. Heintzelman.

In 1863 he was appointed by President Lincoln Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Arizona. Upon the organization of civil government in Arizona he was elected first delegate to Congress. At the conclusion of his term he made the tour of Europe, visited the Paris exposition of 1867, and wrote a little book called "Europe in the Summer Time." Returning to Washington he resumed the practice of law in partnership with Judge Bots of California; but the delays of Washington jurisprudence were irksome to an impatient pioneer, and when the news of the Burlingame Chinese Embassy came over the wires it fired an old ambition to see "the splendor and havoc of Asia," and he obtained an honorary commission from Mr. Seward to visit Asia for the extensive interest of "Immigration and Irrigation," and was also commissioned as bearer of dispatches from the Chinese Embassy to the Emperor of China. He was accompanied on the voyage by his old friend and traveling companion, Ross Browne, Minister to China.

Before the inauguration of President Hayes Col. Poston was appointed by President Grant Register of the Land Office in Arizona, and, like an Arab, returned to the desert, and was lost to sight for ten years. He also served as Consul Agent at Nogales, Mexico, and Military Agent at El Paso. For the past five years in Washington he has been engaged in promoting the interest of irrigation by the Government on the arid lands of the West, a measure destined to produce more good than any other measure since the construction of the Pacific railroads.

[Col. Poston occupies several honorary positions in Arizona, including the presidency of the Arizona Historical Society, mention of which has recently appeared in THE TIMES.]

Shot at His Father.—W. H. Coleman, a young man about 30 years of age, was brought in from Pomona last evening and lodged at the County Jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

His father, H. J. Coleman, a well-known ranchman, took several shots at a Winchester rifle at his father, but failed to hit him. Mr. Coleman believes that his son is demented, and upon that point he will probably be first examined before Deputy Sheriff Frank Slanger brought the prisoner in.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Inter-collegiate Athletic Association's Field Day.

All the Teams for the Different Colleges Selected.

Handsome Medals and Cups for the Several Contests.

The Outlook for the Coming Bench Show. A Better Class of Dogs and More of Them Entered Than Ever Before—Sporting Notes.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association Saturday night, all the final arrangements for next Saturday's field day were completed. The teams of the different colleges are now selected, and their pictures will be exhibited in the show-windows next week. They present the appearance of as fine a set of athletes as ever engaged in any athletic contest in Southern California.

The medals for the contest have arrived, and are very beautifully designed. They will be on exhibition, together with the college team cup and the permanent intercollegiate cup, in Montgomery's windows, on South Spring street. These cups, by the way, are magnificent, and are the first things of the kind given in Southern California. The winning team will have good reason to be proud of the trophies that it will bear away.

The order of events has been decided upon as follows: One hundred yards' dash, mile run, high jump, mile walk, hammer throw, shot put and 440 yards' dash, pole vault, baseball, safety races.

In order to shut out all professionalism, and to make the contest strictly one of students, the following rule has been adopted: "Each contestant must bring a certificate, signed by the president and secretary of the faculty, stating that said contestant has taken at least ten hours a week regular recitation or lecture work for at least three months before the date of the field day, and that he intends to pursue the same for the remainder of the school year."

This contest deserves the patronage of the public. It will be interesting and exciting, more so, perhaps, than any other that has ever taken place in this part of the State. The evening after the contest the medals will be publicly awarded at the University of Southern California. The winning team will have the honor of selecting the person to award the medals. This person will probably be the young man who has proven himself most loyal to his college. At the same time and place a reception will be given to all the college students of Southern California, to which the senior classes of the Normal and High schools have been invited. The reception will be a fitting climax to the biggest college day in the history of Southern California.

THE COMING BENCH SHOW.

Judging from the entry list, which closed yesterday, the coming bench show of the Southern California Kennel Club, which opens in this city April 19, promises to be far superior to all of its predecessors both in point of numbers and in quality. This is as it should be, for to the efforts of the club, alone is due the present interest in canine affairs. It is only four years ago since the first show was held in this city; at which the animals exhibited were of very inferior quality; but at the present time, such was the stimulus given to breeders, some of the very best strains are represented, and in a few years Southern California will be able to hold its own with any of its competitors.

Of the gentleman who has been selected to officiate as judge Sports and Amusements has this to say: "George Raper of Sheffield, England, who, for the second time, has judged at the Westminster Kennel Club's annual New York show, has, we understand, been engaged to judge the Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego shows. This is the second time a British judge has been engaged by the California bench show committee to cross the ocean and the American continent to judge their dogs, Irish Ambassador Graham being the other gentleman who has so far judged in America, and who will be in the city to meet his home engagements. Mr. Raper has been compelled to return to England, from whence he will re-embark for New York on April 6, and at once proceed to Los Angeles, Cal., where the first show of the Pacific Coast circuit opens on April 12. It must be said that the fanciers of the Coast are about the luckiest of any in America, or any other country, to go to the expense annually of bringing a judge from the East or from Europe to decide the merits of their dogs. The time of a man like Mr. Raper cannot be had for nothing, not to speak of the heavy item of his steamship, railroad and other expenses."

About forty dogs will be sent down from San Francisco, among them being Irish setter, pointers, retrievers, St. Bernards, Newfoundlanders, Great Danes, Chesapeake Bays, bull and fox terriers. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express has kindly agreed to carry all dogs to the bench show, the Pacific and Southern California kennel clubs upon payment of full rates to the show, and will return them free of charge, providing that they have not changed owners.

PROGRESS OF YACHTING.—Yachting first came into existence in the eighteenth century, says the Figaro, when a considerable number of clubs were formed in the United Kingdom. The first was the "Water Club" in Ireland. Then in 1810 the English Yacht Club appeared, and in 1838 this club became the celebrated Royal Yacht Squadron. In America the New York Yacht Club was organized in 1844. From the very first year of its existence regattas were started, and the contests were so brilliant that they were fully recorded on our side of the Atlantic. In France, in 1840, Alphonse Kars, the Comte de Chateaullivault introduced yachting, but the yacht club of France was not formed until 1867. During the past twenty-five years its progress has been constant, and last year a new society was organized under the name of the Union of French Yachts. Its object is to stimulate the ardor of yachtmanship by recompensing their efforts. At the present time, under the vigorous impulsion of competent amateurs, the interest of yachting in our country is increasing every day, and many of our rich men are the owners of superb boats, in which they cruise in the Mediterranean.

We cannot afford to ignore the existence of this new current which carries Frenchmen toward nautical sports, and every Monday we will henceforth give special attention to our columns to yachting. Fleets of yachts sail along the coast of Provence, and feverish preparations are going on for the coming regattas, but our shipyards have not yet by any means reached the dull season. Yacht building still goes on, notwithstanding the large number of boats that have been turned out for this year's contests. Fin keels and hull keels and old type races will have plenty of trials before the summer is over.

STAKES FOR TROTTERS AND PACERS.—The Northwestern Breeders' Association has not only offered a $15,000 stake for trotters, but also $5,000 one, free for all pacers, to which none are barred, says the Chicago Tribune. This will be a wonderful race, for the reason that pacers are faster than trotters, and pacers are raced—no kept to look at. A list of fast pacers showing the fastest of each country and starters may be expected should be interesting. It will be noticed that this only includes pacers with records of 2:12 or better, but fast pacers "bob up" every year from all sections, and as an evidence of this, flying 2:10 pacers have been known to have never started in a race prior to the year 1892.

So this free-for-all pace should certainly be as attractive, if not more so, than the free-for-all trot. The entries already closed for this trotting meeting are greater in number than any other meeting ever received, and will give the visitors to the World's Fair an opportunity of seeing the greatest trotting meeting ever held. The eligible pacers are:

SOLLY SMITH'S FUTURE.—Solly Smith has not proved the howling success in the East that his friends predicted. He has been in the San Francisco Post. It seems that the Californian is considered a third or fourth rater, and on that account the Atlantic coast clubs refuse to give a purse for him and Dixon. If the California boy had a manager capable of commanding the respect and interest of the East, he would have secured a match before this. As it is, he is badly handicapped by having to depend upon Zeke Abrahams, a man who has achieved undeniable fame on account of his many failures as a pugilistic manager.

17. The club officials offer a purse of $5000 for the fight, the men to weigh 142 pounds.

The English crack, F. J. Osmond, will arrive here next month and go into training at once for all the tournaments.

In Paris lady cyclists have to obtain the consent of the prefecture of police to ride through the streets. So far only twenty-six have secured the necessary permission.

Statistics are quoted to show that England has one cyclist for every three by three inhabitants, France one for each 183, Belgium one for 190 and America one for 209.

H. M. Tonner, North Ontario, has sold the pointer bitch Amariyllis II, by Ah Sing (Kan Koo-Drab) out of Amariyllis (Don-Drab), to James Adams, Long Beach.

Two thousand one hundred and seventy stray dogs were captured in the streets of London by the police during last January, of which only 269 were claimed by their owners.

Chess players Walbrodt and Tchigorin will probably not meet, as the Russian demands that it shall take place in St. Petersburg, while Walbrodt's backers want the match at Havana.

J. W. Mitchell, Esq., of this city is erecting a kennel for his fox terriers that will accommodate about fifteen dogs. It will be one of the finest structures of its kind on the Coast.

Some time ago Kilpatrick offered to race against any one-legged cyclist in the world at any distance. His challenge has been accepted by J. G. Modine of Chicago, who names 100 miles as the distance.

Sidney Thomas, who has again won the ten-mile championship of England, has finished first in this event three times. In 1889 he made the best championship time on record for ten miles—51:31 2-5.

Bicycle matters are quite lively now at San Diego. Another relay race is being talked of between Los Angeles and San Diego. Moonlight runs have been quite common during the present moon and fine weather.

Messrs. E. Douglas and Charles L. Clark of Riverside will tour a wheel from Riverside to Pasadena, where they will take the train for New Orleans. From there they will ride through the Eastern and Middle States.

Arrangements are being made by the South Riverside Gun Club for a tournament to be held in the near future, upon its grounds, in which the San Bernardino, Riverside, Perris and San Diego clubs will probably participate.

The Pastime Gun Club of San Diego recently organized with J. B. Badgley as president, and Frank Stevens, secretary. It has secured grounds for trap shooting just north of Recreation Park, and will hold weekly meetings hereafter.

Paddy Smith, brother of Denver Smith, has been matched to fight an unknown for $1000 a side. The fight is to be decided within fifty miles of Pittsburgh April 17. After Smith's battle is settled Quinn will back Smith to fight Billy Myer or Austin Gibbons for $1000 a side and the largest purse.

At the Osborne street baths, Manchester, recently, J. H. Tyers, champion amateur swimmer, made a successful effort to lower the world's record for seventy-eight yards. He went the distance in 49 3-5 seconds, in the presence of 1000 spectators. The previous record stood to the credit of the famous professional, Joey Nuttall, whose time was 50 1-5 seconds.

Flemmick, the celebrated high-jumping horse, with a record of 7 feet 4 1/2 inches, the property of the Mme. Marantette combination, was seriously injured recently. In jumping over a fence at Kalamazoo, Mich., he impaled himself on one of the pickets, it being thrust into him to the depth of about seven inches. Veterinary surgeons were summoned, but it is feared the injuries are fatal.

Alonstarr, the German bicycle rider, will take part in the international races at Chicago this year. He defeated Lehr at Frankfurt a couple of years ago, and rode second to Zimmerman in the Berlin races last year. This information comes through William Opel, son of a wheel manufacturer at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, who came to this country last week and intends to remain until the close of the year. Lehr, together with another of the Opel family, will start for Chicago as soon as the German championships have been decided. Mr. Opel, who is now in New York, will also compete.

Here is the latest hunting story, as related by a correspondent of Forest and Stream: "That reminds me of the way they catch rabbits in the upper peninsula of Michigan. The hunter goes out just at dusk and builds a large fire at the edge of a cedar swamp, then retires. The rabbits, seeing the light, are attracted in large numbers. Finding the fire warm and agreeable, they sit around until the fire burns out. The snow, being warm and melted, freezes rapidly, and very soon the rabbits find themselves frozen fast. In the morning the hunter comes, armed with a club, and knocks them on the head."

Capt. Shirley of Philadelphia is going to make a trip from his home to San Francisco. He will make the journey in a boat of his own design, called a Philadelphia sneak box, after the general plan of a Barnegat duck boat. His idea is to row along the Atlantic coast and to lead a mariner's life, depending in a large measure for sustenance upon what he can procure with his gun and fishing tackle. Capt. Shirley was for three years in the United States naval service, and spent considerable time on oyster boats. He says he can make the entire trip from Philadelphia to San Francisco in thirteen months, a distance of over thirteen thousand miles. He estimates the cost of the entire trip at about $250.

AUTHORITY IN COURT.

A Sensible and Reasonable Present—A Lawyer's Opinion.

A prominent lawyer makes the following statement: "A few days ago I was counsel for the prosecution in a suit for damages in a case in which a child had received permanent injury to its spine, caused by severe punishment. I consulted the leading medical men of the city, requested them to furnish me with some treatise on spinal disease and injury, which, as an authority, would be acceptable to the Court. Failing to find the work I sought, I was referred to the Encyclopedia Britannica by the most eminent of the surgeons. Borrowing the volume—treatise of the spine, its functions and injuries—from a brother attorney, I introduced its statements into the court as evidence, which the Judge accepted as conclusive. Through it alone was I enabled to win the case. It may be needless to add that I hail your present offer as one long looked for and not to be neglected. Of course I want a set of them."

Remember that the Encyclopedia Britannica is the only cyclopedia that will be accepted in the courts of law as evidence and authority.

The resolution to spend 10 cents a day and ten minutes a day, beginning now, will doubtless prove a turning point in many a person's life.

"A Unique Corner of the Earth!"

That's Coronado Beach.

Do You Know What Coronado Beach Is?

It is the Paradise of the Pacific, the Mecca of tourists in search of rest, health, sport and diversion.

This "Land of Sunny Days," where care is a stranger and worry a dead letter. Where dyspeptics forget their ills and pessimists are born again; where sick people get well and well people get fat. It is the Florida for globe-trotters and the land of Acadia for lotus-eaters.

Come and Tarry

With us awhile and enjoy the "dolce far niente" which is attained here to the height of earthly perfection. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. We've got the pudding—come and eat, drink and be merry. One never gets the "blues" at Coronado Beach.

It would seem that enough had been said in yesterday's ad to last through the week. You may have forgotten some of the points that hover about the big dress goods room. Nothing we say can be overdrawn or overdone. It is full of brightness and full of life. Trade more than doubling over a year ago. Truth rightly spoken carries with it conviction. We truthfully speak the truth. Trade more than doubling in dress goods. What a world of thought this dry goods business is. What a world of new ideas pop through the brain with the ending of each day. Have you thought how much silks are to be used. We have been thinking for you, and here are Cheney Bros' best India Silks in a world of colors and colorings, in dots and dashes, in stripes and zig-zag effects, in the interlining of flowers and buds, taken and copied from the brains of French artists who originally flched their ideas from nature. To be shown for the asking. These silks are made from pure silks. They are not loaded with zinc and paste and putty, as so many of the silks are. They are soft to the touch. All pure silks are. They are evenly twisted. No roughness in the Cheney Bros' silks. The best—the very best of all good wearing silks, and the colorings are as fast and as pure as the best dyes can make them. Why experiment. Buy the best. They are reasonable in price and have the merit of wear as well as style to recommend them. Do you suppose we would waste our breath or time, and pay for advertising Cheney Bros' silks if we did not have confidence in them. The wear brings credit to our dress goods department. We are working for a reputation in dress goods selling. Now 100 feet of dress goods counter room, and every inch is busy with dress goods buying. Cheney Bros' silks $1 a yard. Moderate price is a prevailing element here. All-wool dress goods 50c, 60c, 65c, 75c, 85c, 90c, $1. Biggest trading centers upon an economical basis in all lines of business, and in all countries. While we elevate you to our millinery room the prices are not elevated. Moderate prices have given a new spirit to the flowers, and ribbons, and hats of the season. A season of brightness. Brighter colors and more showy effects and a lowering of prices in millinery. Finest trimming and nothing extra tacked on for this. Untrimmed hats 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c, $1, $1.50. Finely trimmed hats $5, $6, $7, equal in every way to $20 and $25 imported hats. Not an exaggeration. We tell you the truth. They are worth coming to see.

The excellent quality of this CREAM is the result of experiments extending over several years. It is an unsweetened cream. It is —Superior to all Other Brands—

In every element that makes it desirable as a substitute for pure cream or milk, it being entirely free from the objectionable color and flavor of other brands. As a food for infants it has no equal. It is a perfect substitute for mothers' milk. A trial of a single can will convince the most skeptical of its superiority.

PASADENA.

Importance of Choosing the Right Route for the Electric Road.

Beautiful April Weather—Operahouse Attraction—Raymond Happenings—People Coming and Going—Revelites.

The street paving question having been settled, the subject in which public interest centers at present is that of granting a franchise for an electric road to one of the several applicants who are knocking for admission into the city precincts. The first thing for the Council to decide will be which one of the applicants means business. This most important part of the transaction having been determined, it will be next in order to decide upon the route that the road shall follow. The idea of any of the proposed lines running up Pasadena avenue to Colorado street, as petitioned for by one of the applicants, will never meet with popular favor, as such a route would only prove of practical convenience to the resident on the West Side.

The choice without question lies between Raymond and Fair Oaks avenues, these being the main thoroughfares running from the southern city limits directly to the business center, and being equally accessible from all parts of town. A petition is being circulated, and has been numerously signed by business men favoring the Fair Oaks route. The paper will probably be presented to the Council today, and will receive the attention it merits. This route could not be improved upon, and would certainly satisfy the general public, who are knocking for admission into the city precincts. It is taken the claims of Raymond avenue, on which are located the operahouse, Hotel Green, the Santa Fe station, postoffice and public library, should receive due consideration.

If Pasadena is to have an electric road she wants it where it will operate to the advantage of the greatest number of her people.

THE "PAGEANT OF ROSES" MATINEE.
A gentleman who has traveled extensively and seen much was heard to observe on Saturday that the Pageant of Roses as presented at the operahouse Friday night was the most beautiful spectacular performance he had ever witnessed, and it is probable that everybody in the audience will agree with him.

The pageant will be repeated, complete in all its numerous details, this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. A large number of seats were sold on Saturday at Suesse's, where they will continue on sale until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, after which hour they may be secured at the operahouse box office. Come early and avoid the rush.

MUSE COME TO TIME.
At the last meeting of the City Council Health Officer Sherk submitted a report showing that about thirty residences and business blocks within the prescribed limits have either not been connected with the sewer or the cesspools formerly have not been filled up. The Council has been very lenient with these tardy property owners, but it is understood that steps will be taken soon to compel them to do so within a time without further delay. It is gratifying to note that the great majority of the owners have complied with the provisions of the ordinance covering the question.

ORANGE COUNTY.

Third Annual Convention of the Christian Endeavor Societies.

The Foot Race Results in the Defeat of the Santa Ana Wonder—The Fastest Time on Record—Anaheim News.

SANTA ANA.
It was a curious crowd that came into Santa Ana Saturday on the morning train from all directions. There were Christian workers—delegates to the third annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of the county, which met in Congregational Hall; foot-racers and their friends; and a large number of spectators.

With which to bet on, one or the other of the racers; Eastern tourists who were simply delighted with the balmy air, the fragrance of the orange blossoms and the beauty and grandeur of the valley, and the local passengers, who seemed not to notice anybody or anything.

The Christian Endeavor representatives found their way up town and into Congregational Hall, where a most interesting and instructive programme, under the leadership of Rev. A. W. Elder of Los Angeles, was rendered. The hall was well filled, and the interest manifested in the meeting was rather more than ordinary. The two principal papers in the forenoon session were "What Does the Christian Mean?" by Mrs. Charles Holden of Grand Rapids, Mich., and "How Shall It Be Conducted?" by Miss E. T. Cox of Buena Park, the county.

Around the leading hotels of the city and near the postoffice there was a different programme. Men, many of them were strangers from Los Angeles, San Bernardino, San Diego and intermediate points, were out on the street in general confusion negotiating bets on the foot race. Joidi, which was the name of the race, was while not as numerous as upon former occasions when silver was in the lead, amounted to the aggregate of hundreds and perhaps thousands of dollars.

In the morning Morris was taken to 1 as favorite, but later in the day money became a little scarce, and the visitors bid good-bye to the race. Morris, who claims to hail from the Hawkeye State.

ON THE TRACK.
It was 3 o'clock before the crowd began to assemble at the race track on the fair grounds, but in a very short time between four hundred and five hundred people were straggling along the track, both sides ready for the exhibition of speed. Betting was slow, and almost all the money was staked even on the runners. Just before the race started, the appearance of Dunn's backer offered to bet $500 on his man. In a few minutes a purse of $500 was made up among Morris's friends, which was covered.

Morris came on the track at 3:35 p.m., and was greeted with a round of applause. It was fifteen minutes later before the man from the Hawkeye State came out, but when he finally came down the stretch he was met by the California boy and the two exchanged greetings. Dunn money was going begging when the two men took the stretch at 4:20 o'clock, and in less than fifteen minutes of scoring they broke away, both from the kangaroo start, and went down the stretch like a meteor, the man from the Hawkeye State leading all the way, and breaking the string at least eight feet ahead of Morris in 9 1/2 seconds from the time he sprang from the scratch.

Dunn or Quinn or Pullay, who ever he is, can run a foot race sure, for his performance here today demonstrated that fact beyond a doubt. This time it was official, and therefore does not give the stranger a record, but it is better than the world's official record by more than a quarter of a second. Some of the watches caught it at 9 1/2 seconds, while others were as low as 9 1/4 seconds. The majority of them, however, were 9 1/2 seconds. The sporting element here in Santa Ana and the surrounding country have lost considerable money on the race.

RETURNED TO NEW HOME.
Mary Miller, the sixteen-year-old German girl who so mysteriously disappeared from her home Sunday evening, April 2, and who was subsequently found in this city in a house of questionable reputation, has returned to the home of her uncle, Louis Meyer, near Orange. She was seen yesterday by a press reporter, to whom she told the story of her little escapade and what led up to it. She regretted very much that she left home and came to Santa Ana, and says she has returned to her uncle's stay, that he is good to her, and always has been. In answer to the question "Where are your parents?" she replied, "My mother is dead, and I never knew who my father was." She is an ignorant German girl, and knows but little of the ways of the world.

Mrs. F. Sand of San Francisco arrived in this city Friday evening on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. and family. Mrs. Sand came down on the steamer Corona, and reports the trip a remarkably rough one.

Seven members of the Santa Ana Gun Club returned here from San Francisco on Friday evening, where they have been enjoying several days' sport with rod and reel, and brought in several hundred fine brook trout.

The Chamber of Commerce meeting called for Monday evening has been postponed until Wednesday evening. A large attendance is especially desired at this meeting, as train rates to coming up which directly interest every resident of the city and county.

The Easter social held at the residence of W. H. Sprague, on East Fourth street, Friday evening, was largely attended, and a general good time was enjoyed by all those who attended. The social was given under the auspices of the Santa Ana Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Although the footrace between Morris and the stranger, who made the race under the name of Dunn, has been run, it is yet a matter of some interest to the spectators. Several threatened fist encounters around the saloons, over the result of the race, but the police were on hand to prevent the same. Morris says he would like to try the feet-foot stranger again, but the probabilities are they will not make another race.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

Interest in the Election for Members of the Board of Education.

The Present Superintendent and His System the Only Issue in the Fight—The New Precincts in the City Election.

SAN BERNARDINO.
The greatest interest in the city election, to take place today, lies in the dispute between members of the Board of Education. It is a struggle and anti-Fry fight, that is, it is a struggle to determine whether the policy in school matters, inaugurated and prosecuted by Alexander E. Fry, the city superintendent of schools, under and through the management of the present Board of Education, shall be maintained or not.

The supporters of Mr. Fry maintain that under the policy introduced by him the schools have made the most rapid progress in their history; that the methods he has introduced at school to promote the interests of the pupils, that it was through the efforts of Mr. Fry in behalf of the schools that they have come to be recognized throughout the country as among the foremost of the schools of the United States.

It is because of these things, and the gratifying results attained among the pupils and the public, that the present board has been led to take a very active part in the present campaign, and has been using every effort to find out the wishes of the principal body of voters, and to secure the support of new members on the board, who will carry forward the policy inaugurated by the outgoing board. The attitude of the teachers in the schools was also ascertained by means of a meeting held a couple of weeks ago, at which printed questions bearing upon the objections raised by the opposition were presented to the teachers and their answers submitted in writing, unsigned.

The board then prepared a bulletin to the pupils, and the pupils were asked to answer the questions, and to send the answers to the board. The answers show conclusively that the studies of arithmetic, reading, writing, spelling and geography are not neglected for the study of the natural sciences, and that the teachers approve of the methods now in vogue. In all but two instances the teachers endorse the policy of holding teachers' meetings.

The school board extended its activity in the campaign to the holding of public meetings at various places during the past week. The meetings were held at the house on Saturday night, at which time stirring addresses were made by members of the board. Indications now point to the triumph of the Fry supporters, and the new precincts in the city election.

When the Board of City Trustees attempted to redistrict the city into new wards last fall, such a hue and cry was raised by the citizens, and through the press, that the ordinance defining the boundaries of the proposed wards was withdrawn. Some weeks later, however, another ordinance was introduced, by which the boundaries were changed but little from those proposed the first time, and it became an act without much being said about it. It was charged at the time that the changing of the boundaries of the precincts was the purpose of perpetuating the incumbents in office, and for the personal gain of the City Trustees. But the chairman of the board—has since either the nomination of any candidate upon either of the four tickets in the field. There has been such a demand made for a change in the policy of the city that neither the present officers nor the new ones, if elected, nor could he secure the nomination of any one known to be his candidate. The election today (Monday) is the first to be held since the change in precincts, and interest is felt in the outcome, both as to the effect of the redistricting and the result as a whole. The vote will undoubtedly be a large one.

Howry & Breece, the Broadway undertakers, have just started upon their second year's business, and although they have not said much lately about the "boy-cot" that was placed upon them one year ago by the Undertakers' Association, which comprises all of the old undertaking firms of this city, their right has been the less severe. Nor are there any indications of the "combine and trust" relinquishing its efforts in trying to prevent Howry & Breece from obtaining their supply. And while some of the members of the "combine" have advertised that they do not belong to the trust, they have not successfully denied any assertion made by this independent firm.

THE SAVINGS BANK IDEA.

The Public is Pleased With It, Especially the Children.

When, a few weeks ago, THE TIMES announced that it would supply that great reference library, the Encyclopedia Britannica, to its readers at less than one-quarter the price of the English edition, payments to be made at the rate of 10 cents a day, if desired, and then throw in a self-registering dime savings bank in which to drop the dime each day, the readers of the paper in the true spirit of enterprise saw it was a good thing. They took the offer up, and from that day the reading-rooms at No. 347 South Spring street have been filled with people eager to investigate such an unusual proposition.

The dime savings bank given to each subscriber to the Encyclopedia nearly caused trouble in the family of a gentleman who bought a set a few days ago. He paid for the entire set and was handed a bank. "I don't need it," he said, "but I'll take it home to the children." The next morning he came into the reading-rooms at No. 347 South Spring street. "Will you sell me four of those banks?" he inquired. "You see I took home the one you gave me and then there was trouble. I have four children, and every blessed one wants a bank—and my wife, too. Let me have four. I'll place the five of them on the wall." He received the banks, and as he left he was heard to chuckle: "Heck! I can squeeze 10 cents a day out of five salary eaters."

It is astonishing how pleased people are with the savings bank idea. They take it as much for a reminder as for a depository for the dimes that are to pay for the Encyclopedia. They realize that it is an easy, pleasant and practicable plan for securing something which will constantly grow in value as the years go by.

Remember, the reading-rooms, at No. 347 South Spring street, are open at all hours of the day. Drop in and you will receive a cordial welcome.

A PREMATURE BLAST.

A Man Probably Fatally Injured While Blowing Up Stumps.

A premature blast very nearly cost a man named Johnson his life yesterday. As it is, if he recovers at all, the whole left side of his face will bear a horrible scar. The man was a recent arrival in the country. While working around in the Arroyo Seco, near the city, yesterday afternoon, he fixed up a powder charge to blow out a stump, and lit the fuse with a match. The light caught almost instantly, and before Johnson could rise from his stooping posture the powder exploded, and the end of the stump struck him in the face, mashing in the left cheek bone, and tearing the flesh in shreds. Johnson was in an unconscious condition at last accounts, and small hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Pacific Coast Pensioners.

A Washington special says the following Pacific Coast pensioners were granted April 9:

Tine, Thomas McDermott; restoration, Charles B. Christensen; reissue, Daniel O'Connor; original widows, etc., Annette J. Jenness, Emma S. Hays.

Oregon—Original, Jesse B. Warfield, David Ackley, William Tucker; restoration and reissue, Stephen H. Green; original widows, etc., Mary Chausse.

Washington—Original, Joseph E. Parish, George Rhines.

Injured in a Runaway.

J. Goodwin, an old man who runs a blacksmith shop at the corner of Los Angeles and Third streets, started out yesterday afternoon, in company with two friends, to take a drive. As the party reached the vicinity of Flower and Twenty-eighth streets, the harness became unfastened, and the horse, taking fright, started off on a run. The rig was soon capsized, throwing the occupants out on the sidewalk. Mr. Goodwin was badly bruised up, but the other two persons escaped without injury. The patrol wagon was summoned and Mr. Goodwin was conveyed to his home on Sixth street, where his physician dressed his hurts.

The Newhall Earthquake.

THE TIMES on Saturday morning published a graphic description of the effects of the earthquake in the oil regions about Newhall, in the form of a letter. The communication was well written, and made good reading matter; it was not, however, a "sensational" in any sense of the word, beyond the descriptive writing, the news features of the quake having been given a day or two previous.

ORANGE LAND at REDLANDS!

THE WILLIAMS TRACT

Adjoining the city of Redlands is now offered for sale in tracts from 5 acres to 200 acres each at prices ranging from $300 to $550 dollars per acre, including two (2) Bear Valley Water Certificates to each acre. This is the most beautiful tract of land in the State and bound to be settled by the most wealthy people, for the reason that pieces from 40 to 100 acres can be selected with every acre as choice as in any 10-acre piece on the tract. The water is put to each 10-acre piece in steel pipes, which adds at least $200 per acre to the value of the land over any other tract on the market. The Williams Tract is just the place and about the only chance left at Redlands for colonies of from four to twenty families, or associations wishing to plant good-sized tracts of oranges or other fine fruits.

Terms of Sale:

One-fourth cash down and balance in 5 years, at 8 1/2 per cent. gross interest. No taxes on land until mortgage is paid. DON'T fail to SEE THE WILLIAMS TRACT before buying elsewhere; if you do you will always regret it. For maps and further particulars apply to

This price is 40 per cent. less than its present value.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS.

WE are replenishing our stock with the finest makes and the best goods for man's wear that are manufactured. We have learned from experience that wherever the best goods for the least money are sold, there they will congregate and bestow their patronage. Carrying out this idea has been one of the reasons of our success, but heretofore the grade of goods carried has not been up to that standard of perfection that would justify the results we have desired to accomplish. In Men's Wear we propose to stock up with the very best obtainable in the city, and the prices at which we shall sell them will be so marked in contrast with exclusive furnishers that there will be no question of where you will find it, to your interest to purchase. In our show window you will find a sprinkling of Men's Summer Negligee Shirts; they range in price from 65c to $2.50 in cotton, and from that to $5 in silk. These goods are specially manufactured for us. They are extra well cut, extra well sewed; the buttons will remain on the shirt as long as the shirt exists, and the seams will not rip with ordinary wear; you will find a ticket on each shirt that if they rip with ordinary wear we will refund the money.

Our line of Men's Summer Neckwear is washable effects and in white lawns ranging in price from 15c a doz. to 50c apiece, will be found the very latest both in cut as well as design. We have closed out all the stock on hand of one of the largest European manufacturers of Men's Socks, 25c a pair, and 3 pair for $1.00. We have two grades of warranted fast black Hosiery that cannot be equalled in the State of California for quality at the price. Of course everybody has a black hose to sell at 25c; ours is a double sole, spliced double heel, warranted indestructible dye, and one of the strongest as well as finest of gauges made; fast black striped socks, full-fashioned, at 25c, and black and white striped Richelieu ribbed socks for summer wear at 25c, you will pronounce to be bargains.

Men's Hats. Spring Wraps...

Is there a better maker of hats in this country than John B. Stetson? You can buy from us his hat at $3.75, which is saving from 25c to $1.25 over any one else handling the same hat; it retails all over the United States at $5.00. Do you know the Wilson Hat? It is renowned for the celebrity of its brown shades and the durability of its color; they retail from $3.50 to $5.00 in exclusive hat houses; we sell them from $2.50 to $3.50. Then we have our own brand of the "Columbia," marked by us; hand-made hats, at $4.00, which we sell from $2.50 to $5.00 apiece; they are made for us by the finest manufacturers of hats in the United States, and branded with our own name instead of the "Columbia." We guarantee these hats in every particular; they come in the latest blocks and contain all the elements of a good hat, and they do not give satisfaction in every way we will refund the money.

Men's Shoes...

We want a share of your patronage in this department. Don't be afraid to come in. Your visit to us will mean a saving of 50c to several dollars for the quality of the shoes you buy. We have known these houses for the past twenty years, and their reputation is established all over this country for good honest footwear. If it does not make any
